“ There are many wonderful memories of Dolores (or Dolly, as Joe called her) but what stands out most is what a loving, kind soul. When Dolores asked “how are you” she really meant it and patiently listened to every word you said. What a rare quality...a listener. We loved her and will miss her.

Holy, kind and generous. Everyone who met her admired her. She never brought any drama or attention to herself. It was always others that she was concerned with. She was not just concerned, she acted to help others. She will be missed. Such a model for us all.
