“ To the entire family my condolences. I will never forget the great tasting smoked sausage George made. I will also always remember his adoration to the Lord, like leading the morning rosary at St. Joseph until his passing. George was an inspiration to me by the way he lived his life.

“ To the entire family, my condolences, an prayers go out to each of you. George was a great neighbor to me, when I lived on Benton Street. An he lived on Pearl Street. He taught me a few things, about making horseradish an gardening, I never knew. Thought about George over the passed few year, as I drove by his home, going out of town towards the high school. A Great man he was. He will be missed.

“ I was saddened to learn of George's passing at Mass yesterday. George was an awesome man, generous and outgoing, and never....literally NEVER...was without a joke...or three. I will miss George's "groaners," as only he could tell them. Finally, and not least: George was an amazing and faithful Catholic, with his quiet and dedicated devotion to Our Lord and Our Blessed Mother. Thanks George, for your example. I look forward to hearing your jokes again someday, in Heaven. Until then, from now on, whenever I hear thunder, I will choose to think it a reaction of the Heavenly Hosts to yet another George Wehner joke.
May Perpetual Light shine upon you, and May your Soul, by the Mercy of God, Rest in Peace.
