“ I met Jon and Scott Murray over 20 years ago and my son Dan and I learned a lot from both of them. I have always been attracted to "characters" and they both fit the bill. I remember the trades Jon and I made over the years, going out to eat at the Chinese restaurant in Wapak and being one of his firewood suppliers. I will miss his phone calls and his stories about the digs he went on and how he acquired all the great Indian relics, guns, horns and knives in his collection. A great loss to all of us who enjoy the early settlement period of Ohio history. Jim Bartlett, forester, Cable, Ohio

“ To the Family,

Jon often joined my father Tom Brown in a variety of card games at the Wapakoneta Elks Lodge. They really enjoyed themselves at the Elks ! I remember having my dad take me up to get my hair cut and the wonderful conversations that took place during those events with Jon. Often, Jon would come through the back door of the restaurant and get his special...french fried chicken and fries and a side of slaw. He often schooled me on antiques and I really appreciated his stories and knowledge. It was priceless ! How lucky we are to have known him !
