“ Whenever I think of my Aunt Melba, I remember the week I spent living with her and her family back in 1960. My folks had planned a once-in-a-lifetime trip around the US, over a month on the road. They made arrangements for all four of us kids to stay with friends and family while they were gone. Today I am amazed that they managed all those logistics (we were living on a farm too), but as a kid back then, I just enjoyed the time with my cousins! I have lots of other memories, including the fact that Melba baked our wedding cake. She will be missed, but we are rejoicing with Herb and the rest of the family that she is now in the presence of her Lord, waiting anxiously to see us all again one day. It's both a sad and a joyous day; thinking about my cousins today. God bless you all.

“ I will really miss Melba. Despite her walking problems for as long as I have known her, she usually had a smile on her face, and never complained. Her faith was rock solid, and she may be skipping around heaven now. Herb was such a tremendous husband and helper. Their loving marriage was a wonderful example for everyone. I know he and all the family will miss her terribly. Prayers, Linda Stuart

“ Prayers and hugs to Aunt Melba's family. Our thoughts and prayers are with you as you travel this difficult and sad time. Aunt Melba was a favorite -- because she was my sponsor and because we shared the same wedding date! So many memories surrounding her and all of you from time spent at the house to reading and treasuring her poems and songs. May God's loving arms embrace you and give you comfort.
