“ Nancy was a few years ahead of me in school. She was my idol, beautiful, sweet, talented and the head majorette at our school. I wanted to be her. Throughout my years she graduated, had a beautiful family and I admired her from afar. Whenever I ran into her we would reminisce and she was always so sweet and pleasant. Some of our children went to school together, some in the same grade. My children also attended the same dance school as hers. As time passed I noticed how she never aged. Always beautiful, even looking much younger than her years. She had her share of heart breaks but remained the kind, lovable person. Now she will be one of the most beautiful ladies in the heavenly choir. She will live on her lovely daughters. They must know how truly blessed they were to have her. Rest In Peace Nancy. I will never forget you. 🙏

“ My love and prayers are sent to all of you! Nancy was a part of my childhood, welcoming me into her home alongside her own children. Growing up, I was blessed to have a friendship with Pam, and that blossomed into knowing and loving the entire family. My sympathy to the Dardio family. ❤️
