“ Tim Hemmert, or Timmy as I knew him was one of my favorite playmates as a youth. He was only a year older than I. We had a lot in common so we had a good time together especially at family gatherings. He was clever, quick-witted and humorous along with having an astute perception. I remember our aunt Stella kept a special eye on us as would sometimes get a little too mischievous. Nothing ever too extreme. Chase each other around and act silly. Maybe a few extra snacks at the buffet table or a failed effort to get a mixed drink at a family wedding reception. But what do you expect from a couple of kids who were both a little hyper active. All good fun actually. Later in life as I returned for a visit we played tennis at one of the local Wapakoneta courts. I moved around a lot and Timmy stayed in Ohio. We didn't see each other much as we got older yet I would have a smile anytime his name came up. He was a gifted musician and I respect people who pursue their dreams. That's how I will remember Timmy. A person who was a lot of fun and liked to play the drums. So play on Timmy...play on..... Cousin.
