“ I love you more is what you said everytime we were hanging up from our 2 hr phone calls. You were my rock, my girl, my best friend. I won't let anyone forget you. But that's absurd anyway, you left anyone that met you with a lasting print on their hearts. I miss you Mami, everyday at work is so sad. It's not the same without you. I miss texting while we were there. Everything. Rest easy my sweet, beautiful, Caribbean Queen as our 1 trucker would call you.

“ Jackie and I met at Wapakoneta elementary school many years ago when I first became a Sub I've had the privilege to work with her and get to know her. She was very sweet and loving. I'm so thankful that God allowed us to cross paths. I have been thinking about her a lot lately and wondering how she was doing I wish I had another chance to get to see her once again and give her another hug before she left. I will continue to pray for family and friends of Jackie. She will truly be missed. Love you girl rest in peace love and prayer. Prayers Mrs. Felicia Bacon.

“ Twenty-three years ago, my sister and I were walking down the street past Mary’s Plaza when we heard a voice calling out 'Hey!' from behind us. We turned around to see this beaming, smiling face fast-walking toward us. She introduced herself right there and asked if we could be friends. It’s a rare person who has the courage and the heart to do that, but that was Jackie—she truly never knew a stranger.

For over two decades, we did our best to always make time for each other, no matter where life took us. To know Jackie was to know what it meant to be openly, fiercely passionate about friendship. She loved those who loved her with every fiber of her being.

But as much as she loved her friends, her kids were her entire universe. If you knew Jackie, you knew her children; they were the center of her world. Family meant everything to her, and she fought with everything she had to keep hers together, even when the world made it feel impossible.

Jackie was the light in every room, which is why her private struggle with depression was something so few saw. She hid it behind that famous smile, never wanting to burden or upset anyone with her own pain. Because she was such a pillar of positivity, her loss has hit this community like a disaster in the night—sudden, quiet, and devastating.

I promise to never stop talking about her. Jackie lived out loud, she loved without reservation, and she deserves to be remembered for the incredible light she was to all of us.

“ Jackie always had a smile on her face! When I'd ask her how she was doing, she'd always say good and then talk about Rob and her kids! This saddens me. I'm so sorry!

“ Jackie had personality for days — the kind of light that filled every room and wrapped itself around every soul she crossed paths with. She carried a kindness that was effortless and genuine, touching people in ways she never even realized. Her spirit was wild, free, and unforgettable, and she was the type of woman who would give you the shirt off her back without a second thought.

I will forever cherish the memories we shared, the laughter, the stories, and the moments that made her one of a kind. I'll keep her alive in my heart and thoughts always.

She lived with passion, loved fiercely, and her children were her greatest pride. She loved them deeply and was so incredibly proud of them.

Rest easy, Jackie. Your spirit lives on in all of us who were blessed to know you.

“ Jackie was a kind and caring person. Her loss saddens our hearts greatly. No matter where we saw her, ex store, truck stop, she made time to "chat" with us. Jackie smiled while talking about her children and family. She loved all of them very much.

Jackie impacted our lives and will be missed. Brenda and Bruce Lillicrap

Not sure if this is where you put your comment and I'm sorry if I intruded on yours. Jackie was such a sweet and kind person, always smiling and always talking about her family. Dad and I would go to the truck stop just to hear and see her. She was always a joy to listen to. She always gave us free hugs and we so enjoyed her hugs. Girl as I am crying we will miss you so much R.I.P
